Dear Valued Customer,

We are pleased to share an exciting milestone in DrillBit's journey. As part of our continued growth and global expansion, DrillBit has moved to a new digital home.

Previous Website: www.drillbitplagiarism.com

New Website: www.drillbitglobal.com

Over the years, DrillBit has grown into a trusted global academic integrity platform, serving 2,500+ institutions and 400,000+ users across 20+ countries. Our new website and global brand identity reflect our vision of expanding our presence to 100+ countries while continuing to deliver innovative technology, trusted solutions, and exceptional customer support.

While our website address has changed, our products, services, team, and commitment to our customers remain the same. You can continue to expect the same level of reliability, security, and support that has made DrillBit a trusted partner for universities, researchers, publishers, and organizations worldwide.

We invite you to visit www.drillbitglobal.com and explore our new global platform, updated resources, customer success stories, and latest innovations.

This change marks an exciting new chapter for DrillBit. As we continue to grow globally, our commitment to academic integrity, research excellence, and customer success remains stronger than ever.

Thank you for your continued trust and support. We look forward to serving you and supporting your success for many years to come.

The Same Trusted DrillBit. Now with a Global Vision.

Warm Regards,

Jayanna Belavadi
